

THOR HAN

Message

Thor Han: I want to ask you to continue to be brave. As you are all. Your shadow leaders try to scare you, but most of the populations are not being fooled and you stand up against the tyranny of fear. You do not let fear entering your houses, your hearts, your persons, your families. You are tempted to do so but now most of you are awakened, this is good, you are on the good path. I told you this already, you've passed the tipping point, the war is not over yet, but it is running towards a good outcome. This is my message: continue as such. Hope is bright, look towards the future which is as bright as your expectations.

Q: Some people pretend that Terra has a parallel planet where we exist there in different form ...

Thor Han: Terra is unique in its dimension, but there are different layers of density and the time speed is different. If you have the ability you can connect to these other densities.
