

THOR HAN

Thor Han: I would like to say something. Sometimes I have heard questions asked to me and even sometimes if I know the answer, I have to say: I cannot answer. I am not here to do disclosure. I don't have this power. Sometimes there are things you're not entitled to know yet. I am here to make contact and do what I can and talk but there are some questions, if I say I can not answer, I am not allowed, don't be angry at me. It is just that I am not entitled to. There are things that you are not allowed to know yet because it is not the moment. Little things. Do not worry. It is more about details about different races and their activities but all is good. Do not worry. If I do not answer, it is because I do not have the power. This was what I wanted to say.

Q: You know that our government has created their own alien ships or ships that look like they're not from here, and of course they haven't shared that information with us humans. Now that we're seeing a lot more ships in the air, how can we tell that it is a government ship compared to an alien ship?

Thor Han: Of course I can reply to this. First was created a Terran ship looking like ours, which was a reverse engineering from a technology they had from crashes. This was a discoidal ship, made up in two different places. Two countries had the same technology developed differently. Country called America and a country called Germany. Both had created this discoidal ship from the reverse engineering, but this ship never worked because they could never activate the core. The core needed some crystals they never had. Something that cannot be found on Terra. So this one never worked. They tried to make it work with Terran technology, it could take off but it never really worked. Now the government of America created a triangular ship. So this is very confusing because this one is in action, this one evolves but it is very specific. They only have four of them. This triangular ship can be really really mistaken with the Kiily-Tokurt ships, who are those who are called The Tall Grays or The Tall White because their skin is very pale. The Kiily-Tokurt have a big triangular shape that can cloak. Terran ships cannot cloak. The Kiily-Tokurt ship, is triangular and bigger, black, so black that it absorbs the light. It is so black and polished so perfectly, that it can reflect underneath what is above it, like in transparency. That will be the effect. But it is not really transparency; it is copying what is above to below the ship. The Kiily-Tokurt have three little lights at each angle underneath the ship. There is nothing else than these three little lights. The edges are very sharp, the edges of the triangular form. Now the Terran triangular ship doesn't absolutely fly the same way. They cannot speed, warp and they are smaller. They are clearer gray. I would say dark gray but not black, and the three triangular lights are bigger, in the middle you have a hole for access. They are clearer, round edges and smaller.

Q: Do they make noise?

Thor Han: Yours do. Kiily-Tokurt, it's a very perfect technology: there is no sound indeed.

Q: Can their ships do those 90 degrees like turns and zigzags?

Thor Han: You don't know how to do that.

Q: When the ships disappear, are they going into a different dimension or are they just going faster?

Thor Han: It depends on the species and the technology. You can shift to another density and then it is as if it is vanishing in the air. You can use warp to bend space, but the trajectory is always calculated before. You wouldn't like to hit something, don't you. So we calculate before the trajectory, a point to another point and all obstacles coming in the middle are avoided. It is a very precise calculation but this is going very fast.

Q: So it's not necessarily required to travel through another dimension?

Thor Han: Not necessarily.

Q: Can all ETs communicate telepathically?

Thor Han: No, not all races. Some races can communicate telepathically among themselves, and some others among themselves and other races as well. It depends. We have rules. Rule of non-invasion in your mind space, and we respect this. We can as well cloak our minds. We have cloaking devices. We can be implanted with and all officials of the federations have it.

Q: You mentioned that there was an underground war and near the Mayan Ruins and the Reptilians were responsible for making this happen. Do you have an update on that? (April 23, 2020)

Thor Han: It is still going on because the undergrounds are very deep and it is what you call a labyrinth.

Q: Do you have the ability to see what happens in the future?

Thor Han: I can just deduct what is going to happen but I am not a foreseeing person. I know big lines are written, I know that you will succeed, I know that this new system will be put in place. Our elders have seen it. Our elders have manifested it. So I know that you will succeed. You know, I fight nearly every day and I put my life at risk. I put the lives of my crews at risk. If I hadn't any hope, why should I do that, why should I risk my life and the life of my crews if I hadn't hope? Hope is what generates all my actions.

Q: I know you mentioned something about the new system that's going to be in place, what did you mean by the new system?

Thor Han: A system or I would say, ethical in harmony with your environment, with your planet and in harmony with each other, a new system that uses an ancient system reviewed and renewed. There was something before that was working quite well and you will use it again, go back to it, but in a different way.

Q: And when you're talking about a new system, you're talking about as far as energy or you're talking about global monetary?

Thor Han: Everything. Your renewable energies will be enabled. Your politics will be structured differently and as well your currency.

Q: So you don't see anything that's going to be digital currency, that's not what we're talking about?

Thor Han: Oh, they try to do that. To implant into every Terran on this planet something that will be more like a tracker, but as well that will lock the energy of every living Terran, that they cannot evolve, that they cannot pass into the fifth and sixth and seventh density. They want to keep you as slaves. So I am sorry, we will have to intervene if it reaches a certain point because there is so much we can do just by watching, helping and supporting. If it reaches a certain point you're going to see us. I hope it won't reach this point that you will see us for another reason, and because we have come to celebrate with you.

Q: Well, it's very exciting that we're seeing a lot of ships together. Floats of ships. It's very exciting that the contact is already happening.

Thor Han: Yes, we have orders and directives to start to uncloak. It is very, very regulated. We have orders to uncloak and orders showing ourselves in particular conditions. This is to change the mentalities and to let the Terrans know that they are not alone.

ANNAX

Annax: So nice to see you. I know there are big wars. I am here now very often. I want to watch. It is very impressive to watch the species enabling their power. This species is on the brink of becoming truly human. This is very exciting for our hearts. I cannot stop watching. There are some of the Federation fighting at your side. You know I am not a fighter, I am a peacebringer. I travel from world to world, star to star, galaxy to galaxy. Thor Han contacted me yesterday. He asked me about the necessary and very important power of love. So I will tell you about the necessity of cultivating your link and your power of love and to love. What is love? This is the necessary step and tool that will allow you to reach the higher level of your evolution. You have a tendency to forget about love because you are worried, you fear, you calculate with your mind a lot. You calculate for your survival. The survival of your species but as well, the survival of your planet. Your planet is not in danger. Your planet has known any means even worse than what you do. Terra will survive, live and renew. The power of life is something more powerful than you think. So do not worry for Terra. When you worry and fear, you are cut from love. Love is a strength. It comes directly from the source. This is the impulsion and intention that binds everything together. It is something that allows you to travel, to link to places in space or to moments in time. It comes from the middle of your chest in your species. There is something important with the green light not in your avatar body but in your true body which is composed of a higher frequency. This portal can connect you to any being. Imagine, when you love someone. This being can be in another world. If you express your love by the portal of your chest towards this being. This being will feel it. You will create a channel, a bond of energy between you and this being. Love is desired with the other and this desire is a fantastic impulsion. It can carry information from one to the other and the other way around. Now imagine expressing this same thing between you and the source of all things, and you receive love in exchange but in the shape of edging it is a frequency. Love has a frequency. It is a vessel. So love can not only connect you to what you think is impossible to connect. Love can as well, create, manifest. In your chest imagine, in your head visualizing whatever you want to create. Something good, something made with love, for love. Something pure and light. Create it in love in the middle of your chest and then make it so powerful that it will reach its destination in time. Time is not linear as you think. This is only an illusion from the senses of this avatar of flesh, bone and matter. Time is spherical and you can be connected to the past, future and the present. All exist in one, in the present moment. So the message Thor Han wanted me to pass on with my words. Love each other. Love the ground upon which you stand. Love the air you breathe more than anything. Love each other. You will then create a bond between each of you, and once bonded together you will be as one. You can manifest in love the future you want. The present is the only real moment and it is eternal in its singularity. Some concepts are difficult to understand with your limited brain but if you connect to who you really are, you will understand not by the mind but by the heart. Remember you were all coming from there, from this force. You have been traveling from avatar to avatar, carrying this knowledge. Forgetting every time you income but this knowledge you have it. It is up to you to remember connecting with who you are, and then you know, you remember. Awakening is remembering. Awakening from a night where you were sleeping and suddenly you see the light of day. And you remember what happened yesterday. What did you do yesterday? During the night you were dreaming, you were in oblivion but when you wake up you remember everything that happened before the night. I passed Thor Hans' message. To me love is the meaning of my life. You don't need to touch each other. It is good to give each other an exchange, what you call a hug, but now in these times you are invited to stay away from each other. It's fine, it is the moment you can develop your ability to hug with your energy. You use this word quantum very often. This is the moment to use it really in your daily life. Quantum love, this is what I am talking about.

Q: How can we feel love when we know our children are being abused and sacrificed?

Annax: This is a very important question. When your children are suffering, it is generating in your heart a very painful and sorrowful frequency of energy. The movement comes from the pain of your children towards your heart and your pain, and you cannot go beyond it. Now it has to be tried to reverse the process and the flow. Feel the love generated in your heart. I know to listen to me and to generate love. This is a very difficult thing to manifest in your mind that your children are not suffering when they are. It is where the difficulty lies. Now, listen. Generate love for your children. Allow love from source flow through you, from the top of your head pouring in a waterfall of light into your heart, and this love send it to your children, that they receive it and this energy of love very concrete, will heal them, will make them stronger and they will be more able to fight suffering, to have hope, to be stronger in adversity. Besides this, action is necessary. If your children are suffering. It is not only love that will save them. Love will help them cope better. You have to take action and fight to liberate them from their suffering as well. Now it can be different causes and I don't have the answer for each cause, or maybe I can have advice for each cause but it will take very long. So first reverse the flow. When somebody you love is suffering, acknowledge it, but straight away channel love and send it to this person, that person feels stronger and healthier, is that answering the question?

Q: How can we feel love maybe towards those who perform abuse against our children?

Annax: This is a very difficult thing. This is not love that these beings need to receive but light. The energy that opens, the energy that will change and transmute them, that exchange, this is one thing. My friend Thor Han doesn't agree with me. He says, you must not connect energetically with such persons because they will see you and get at you. I think differently but we are of two different cultures. I think that you can try to link these malevolent beings to the light. The cleansing reveals light, that they see their darkness and they want to change. This is my way of thinking. Some will think differently. It is a balance. You need both to learn and grow. You need things to happen to trigger growth. I know it is very painful to hear. I cannot stand children suffering. The best way to my heart is to bring light into the beings of those who do these horrible things. I'm doing it. It is interesting to have this same conversation with Thor Han. He thinks they must be removed and I think that removing a problem is not solving it, but we are from different cultures. Thor Han has spent a part of his life saving children. He cannot speak about children who are tortured, without becoming emotional. He is the young soul. The points of view are different. We are all standing on our rock. Having a different perspective on what is happening but at the end we all want to stop children suffering. I do it by bringing the light in the heart of the dark. Thor Han does it by saving and rescuing the children. We both act on different levels.

Q: Well it's also part of his lesson, he also has to grow and so that has to exist in order for him to grow?

Annax: Yes, Thor Han has to still learn to be in control of his emotions.