QA LIVE - Welcoming 2021!

Message

Thor Han: Salutation to all Terrans who are listening to my voice. This is a message from my kind to your kind. We are cousins, we originate from the same stardust, the same energy flows through our veins, and in our hearts connected together we connect to Source that nourishes everything in this multiverse. I have come to watch over you, to look after the wounded, the frightened. To guide you through this dark night with my people. The Galactic Federation of Worlds is a federated unity of many different worlds of this magnificent galaxy, which we call Nataru.

The Galactic Federation of Worlds / Oraa Nataru Shari is holding your hand throughout this darkest night, sending many envoys that you call starseeds, in incarnations. Many, from different races, have chosen to sacrifice years of their lives to help free this planet from slavery and occupation. Wars trigger resilience, courage that would never be, and strength. It is in combat that we discover how strong we are, it is in combat that we discover that we are brave, that we were sleeping until now and that finally we awake. We open our eyes, and we take the sword, and we fight. We face our fears and we grow. We meet our enemies with a smile of compassion and the certainty in our hearts that we work for the balance of the universe. You will win this war, Terrans. We are helping you, we are holding you at the tip of our fingers, arms raised to rise with you in love, in our hearts, to help you walk towards your destination.

What awaits you, we've seen it. It is a magnificent time, it is a magnificent world. We gave you everything you needed, but it was stolen from you. Many times we contacted your highest scientists and gave them the technology you needed. Not giving it to you directly but getting around the law of non-intervention. Now you see all this, now you awaken. But as you awaken the predators are in the shadows working their ways to try to confuse your minds. Working their ways to your heart, your minds, your emotions. They are trying to make a bad name for the Galactic Federation of course, they are trying to convince you that starseeds are mad, that starseeds are bad and that they need to be removed. Isn't that the words of your enemies? Aren't these words of the Ciakahrr, the Maytra, Kiily-Tokurt and all the alliance of the Six from Uru An Na? Stand up! You are here because you have chosen this mission, and you will complete it. Awaken the others! Awaken the others! Awaken the others! Do not fear! Do not fear! These agreements that have been made in your past by a little bunch of elites of humans who had power, can be undone by the many. You have free will and your free will overpasses what they have done. And if the people of Terra make agreement with all the benevolent galactic races who look after you, with the Galactic Federation of Worlds, the agreements made by a few powerful men will be rescind because you are way more numerous. The more you are, the faster this will go.

Tell the others to stand, to look at the stars. Open your heart and, as equals, request assistance as members of the Galactic Community, as Human Beings, and as Galactic Beings. It is now time in your evolution when you are ready to use the technologies we've given to you. If you move from fear, if you move away from manipulation, you will become a peaceful united species. And then the day you will be all united, federated on your planet, you will join the Galactic Federation officially, but in the meantime there is work to do. This war is not over Terrans. It is just about to start the last final battle. So wake up, take your sword. Your sword is truth, the truth you have it in your heart.

Say no to manipulation. Your body belongs to you, your destiny belongs to you. Say no to anything that can harm your body. Say no to anything that will induce fear or resentment. Your own kind is not the true enemy. Stop fighting among each other, unite and focus on the real enemy. And the best way to overcome your enemy, cast this enemy out of your world forever, is to elevate your frequency, elevate your consciousness by positive feelings, such as compassion and love. Immense serenity and the awareness of your power will raise you above fear. Fear is the weapon that they use to control you. Once you are shielded, once you know your strength, fear will vanish with the beings who created it. This world is changing, Terrans. You are about to enter an era of responsibility. Take responsibility for your own selves and your own kind. We are not superior to you, we are not your gods, we are not superheroes. We are just people like you, born somewhere else. Refuse fear. Embrace your power. You have free will. Take action, say no to the weapons they use against you. We are here. The Galactic Federation of Worlds is with you and all the Grays and Reptilian species who occupy this planet will go. This is a promise I make to you.

Vision of the future

Elena: Something amazing happened to me, only two months ago. I received a powerful vision one night in a dream. Then I wrote it on social media and I realized there were many people who have had the same vision, on the same night. This vision was sent to humanity because we just had taken the road of the victorious timeline. The future had suddenly changed, the timeline had changed, and we were sent the response from the universe. The mirror of the future. So what did I see? People walking in the streets, laughing, shouting: yeah! It's over! People were hugging each other, dancing and there was music coming from houses, and cars were passing near the crowds, honking, and it was like hysteria. Everybody was liberated, free, happy and the emotion of joy was so intense. And I'm sure as I say this, that many of you are just thinking at the same moment, oh I had the same vision, because so many people had the same vision. So that is what's coming. Victory. We are not scared anymore about this dystopian world they try to put into our heads. They will try to control us, alter our DNA and enslave us. Same as these Reptilians and Grays have done to the Zeta Xrog and the Solipsi Rai. They've enslaved them. They altered their DNA, and they make of these races of small Grays their slaves. Nobody came to save them at the time but now the Galactic Federation is here, they won't let this happen. They try to motivate us to fight and to wake up, but if we fall, they'll be here to pick us up, don't worry, but we need to try, because it's our evolution that is at stake.

Vision of the future

Thor Han: I see a world bathed with light. I see a world where Terrans are hand in hand building cities, and bridges over borders. It is no more questions of individualities of states, but it is about a federation of different cultures. All nations will keep their heritage and culture, being at the same time federate in peace, in a global entity. A federation based on a Council of Wise Elders. The Terran species will succeed. This future we've seen it, this timeline. You are now at the crossroads but walking already towards your salvation. We will build together the world of tomorrow, after this terrible fight is over. Fighting side by side. They try to confuse your mind, but this will not last. My vision for your future is technology free for everyone. No food shortages anymore, no hunger. The population growth will be solved because you will be able to send colonies to other planets. We will help you in this. I see you reaching out to your rightful destiny. Your destiny is not only survival but liberation. I've seen it. Now you need to visualize this timeline, to set it on the web of this universe. You need to anchor this timeline because it is still fragile. The fights are not over yet. It can be a very destabilizing moment to come, but it will be eventually over, and you will walk into the light. Do not give out to fears. Fear is the only thing that will slow down your victory, slow down your evolution.

I manifest the world I have seen for you, not by premonition but by the instruments we possess on this ship. We've seen it, many others have seen it, the Andromedan Council have seen it. This is why they called our attention towards Terra. I know that in your hearts is this certainty that you came for this moment, now in these times, and as this solar year goes and a new one comes, hope is reborn because now, Terran humanity shines and will become more powerful each day. We are here beside you with love. Heads up, this is the last fight. You came for this. I will keep my fleet available anytime to protect and support your actions with love. Let us manifest together this future that becomes our present of peace over the planet: Visualize yourself, just where you are.

Suddenly, you have the knowledge that wars have ended, that countries are federating, that technology is exchanged, not only between countries but between species. Now, everyone can travel for free. The energy is available for everyone, you don't need to pay bills anymore. No hunger in the world. All the dirty oil companies and all the bad ruling elite families have collapsed. This world is clean on many levels, physical and energetical. The future is safe, the future is beautiful. Finally, we've arrived there. We've done it. Keep this vision in your heart because this is where we are heading.
