

Q&A - TAAL - Who are they?

Elena: Tonight I'm going to speak about the Taal people. They are very intriguing because we don't speak a lot about them. We always speak about Pleiadians but when we say Pleiadians, we think about people like Thor Han, tall blonde but Pleiadian is not only this race. The Pleiadians, it's five races and the Taal are one of them, and they are very representative of us, because they are our closest cousins in this galaxy. Why did I decide to talk about the Taal? For two reasons. I had this idea in mind for a long while because there is a group of renegade Taal, who are involved in very dark stuff on this planet. The second impulse that decided me to do it tonight is that last week I connected to Thor Han, he was in his ship and he had a co-pilot with him. They were out on a mission in this system and the first time I saw this guy, he looked like a Taal. He had a Taal uniform, white silvery with golden reflections. I was curious, and he sensed my curiosity. He said, This is Akvaaru, and he's a Taal. So I asked him if his colleague would be okay to be connected for the next Q&A that I do? And he agreed. He said, because Akvaaru, his real long name is Akvaruu, so he calls him Kav. What does he look like? Kav looks like a normal Earth Caucasian human being with long black hair. The thumbnail of this video I made is the most approaching artwork.

Message

Thor Han: Hello to you all, Thor Han here speaking. I remember, and I remind you to not stay in fear because we are speaking about this topic tonight. Fear is to be avoided because it takes away your power, and now, after I reminded you this, I am going to give you a little clue about my work these last days and weeks. As always I do not tell the operations before and while they are happening for safety reasons. Elena doesn't even know. Today I am going to speak about portals. This star system, we have protected it by a shield of plasma and high frequency. It may seem invisible to your eyes because this is at the limits of your star system, but when you approach, it will seem to you like a fire wall of plasma. This plasma is constructed with high holographic frequencies. This wall stops any vessel calibrated on lower frequencies. It is a very high protection shield that those of our enemies trapped in this star system and hiding in here cannot go and help or ask from outside enforcement. This is the trap that we set for them. Not for you of course, you can leave your star system whenever you want, but we need to talk about this also. Nobody can come in without the authorization of the Galactic Federation of Worlds, but the problem is that many ships of the enemy are coming in and out constantly by portals. We have been working a very long time and hard on discovering the frequencies of these portals. We have set the frequency of the portals leading to a star system named Jada (Aldebaran). We have found this frequency, and we have decalibrated it to close the portals to Jada. We need now to find all the other portals corresponding to other places in the galaxy, where the enemy has outposts and contingents. We still haven't found all the portals from the Orion Nebu. We are still looking for them and I will not disclose more on these operations. The frequency key is the frequency that determinate the target of a portal. A portal is not as you would think a wormhole, what we call a vortex. A portal is a resonance door where you jump from a point to another point as if you prefer teleportation. Wormholes are shortcuts through the fabric of the cosmos. These are where our operations are at the moment. I hope you understand I cannot say more. This is my word.

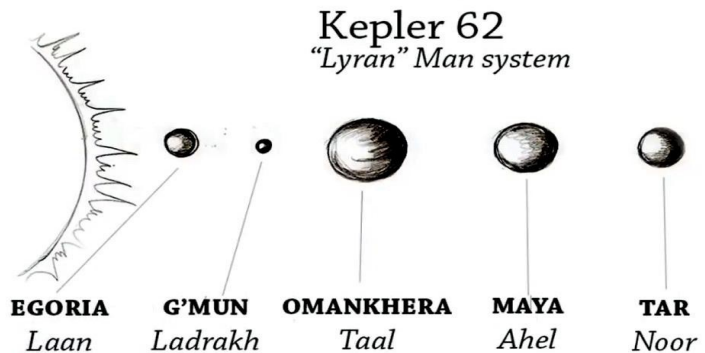

The story of the Taal

Elena: The Pataal. Who are they? Thor Han names them the P'Taal. They pronounce names differently in regard to the species. The Taal come from Lyra. The Lyra constellation is the cradle of human species in this galaxy. All the star systems in Lyra have been seeded from a race coming from another galaxy/dimension (universe), the Taal. Taal says that they kept a name because they were the closest looking and descendant from the P'Taal, and they consider themselves like royalty. They are very proud of this, although they are a very ancient race, they consider themselves as royalty, and it's something very important for them.

Now I'm going to share a screen to show you the Lyra Constellation. Kepler-62. It's this star in the constellation of Lyra. (it is named "Lyra" because it looks like a little Lyra and that's a name given by Earth people). As you see there are many other systems, Kepler-20, 7b, Vega. Vega is going to be important in our story. K-62 was the center of everything, the cradle of everything. The local populations call it Man. I'm going to show you another picture which represents the Kepler-62, Lyran Man system.

The Kepler-62 system had five main inhabited planets. The closest to the star Man was Egoria. It's the planet originally for the Laan race, who are humans with feline features. On planet G'mun was the Ladrakh race. They are a species of reptilian humanoids with a very nice and beautiful culture. Very loving race. The Planet Omankhera is the Taal main world, and it was the biggest planet as you can see. The most resourceful, amazing and beautiful rich world. From this planet the Taal were ruling the whole Man system. The planet Maya was the Ahil world. Ahel is the name for Thor Han's race. I'd sometimes say Ahil or Ahel. So Ahel is the singular and Ahil is the plural in Taami, the oldest Man language and which became the official language of the Galactic Federation of Worlds. The plural is marked by adding the letter "i". Therefore, Ahel becomes Ahil and Taal becomes Taali. I always say the Taal because if I say Taali, it can confuse you but let us go by the rule and call them the Taali and the Ahil. (Ladrakh/Ladrikh, Laan/Laani, Noor/Noori). The Noor from planet Tar, they are like the Ahil, but they are these giant tall blondes. (Interestingly, I was told that the P'Taal group were mostly tall blondes. Very, very, very tall, but those who use their name, the Taal are not exactly like this. The Taal are seeding systems and galaxies, and they use genetic materials from different species, and they mix it together.

The planet Maya was the Ahil world. Ahel is the name for Thor Han's race. I'd sometimes say Ahil or Ahel. So Ahel is the singular and Ahil is the plural in Taami, the oldest Man language and which became the official language of the Galactic Federation of Worlds. The plural is marked by adding the letter "i". Therefore, Ahel becomes Ahil and Taal becomes Taali. I always say the Taal because if I say Taali, it can confuse you but let us go by the rule and call them the Taali and the Ahil. (Ladrakh/Ladrikh, Laan/Laani, Noor/Noori). The Noor from planet Tar, they are like the Ahil, but they are these giant tall blondes. (Interestingly, I was told that the P'Taal group were mostly tall blondes. Very, very, very tall, but those who use their name, the Taal are not exactly like this. The Taal are seeding systems and galaxies, and they use genetic materials from different species, and they mix it together.

Now I'm going to tell you a little bit about the Lyran wars and the Taali, because it has to do with our story. The Taali are a sister race of the Ahil, and they display a greater diversity in skin, eyes and hair color. They are normally looking like me, Caucasian with black hair and brown eyes or honey color, but you can have differences. They can breed very easily with the Ahil. So when we said the Taali have brown hair and the Ahil are blonde, that's generalities. You can find mixes. You can find Ahil looking like Taali but with blonde hair. So on their home planet Omankhera was the main government for the Man system; it was organized in a hierarchical system of monarchy, presiding over a council of 25 and an assembly of 300 senators. The Taal culture and education is similar to the Ahel traditions, although the spirituality diverges. The Taali practice an ascetic spirituality based on the idea that the body is an obstacle to the elevation of the spirit, contrarily to the Ahil who use the body as a tool to connect to higher realms of consciousness. During the Lyran wars the Taal government skillfully managed to pass an agreement with the Ciakahrr invaders to allow them saving their culture and escorting the royal family to the nearer star system that we call Vega, in exchange for an unclear arrangement. It was discovered long afterwards that the destination of the escape changed to Mirza in the Orion area. So what happened was, the Man star system was attacked by the Ciakahrr Empire who wanted to take over because of the resources, not only physical resources like minerals, food, nature etc., but also human resources for food and breeding. The Ciakahrr arrived and they stood at the border of the Man system. They started the attacks but the fleets of the Man people were resisting, and an agreement was passed between the Taal royals and the Ciakahrr faction that was attacking. This is still unclear to this day. The official version is that the Taal got the Ciakahrr to halt their attacks in order to allow colonies to leave the star systems. They had a very few time to pack up everything they could on their big ark ships and go; that was too quickly. The thing is, why did the Ciakahrr accept this? Until this day we don't know if there was a secret agreement. Then, the Taal royal family left on a ship on their own with all their government. All these colonies from all these races went everywhere in the galaxy but the ship with the Taal royals that was meant to fare with a Laan colony to Vega, surprisingly, were escorted by a Ciakahrr protection detachment. The two Arks were escorted by their enemies to Vega, and when they arrived in the vicinity of the Vega system, the Laan went to Vega to find a new world but at that precise moment the Taal royal ship turned away and took the direction of the star system Mirza (Beta Canis Majoris). I need to tell you that what is going to interest us is not all the colonies of the Taal because there are plenty all over the galaxy but the one in the Pleiades. The main colonies of the Taal are in the Pleiades (Manahu).

This is a drawing of the Taal from Mirza, that's the royals when they arrived at Mirza. Here is an excerpt from my book, A GIFT FROM THE STARS:

"Taal royal refugees from planet Omankhera, in the Lyran Man system, who settled on the 3rd world, Mandoghlar, of the star system Ghiorak-An (Mirza, β Canis Majoris, in the Orion zone). The records of this somber era of the Lyran Wars tell about a deal concluded by the head of the Taal government with the Ciakahrr invaders, aiming to gain time to save the Man cultures and civil populations, allowing refugees to leave, but a shadowy spot remains in regard to the integrity of the Taal royals, and even of their unclear implication, in the first place, in the Ciakahrr invasion. All records regarding this episode and the Taal-Ciakahrr treaty were said to be lost or destroyed in the haste of escaping the war... Part of these agreements included that the royal family would leave safely, and two ships left the Man system, one carrying the royals and the other elites from high castes of the Taal society, both escorted by a Ciakahrr fleet. The official destination was Vega but as soon as the cortège was far enough, the Taal royal family diverted course for the Orion zone; to the Mirza system. It is obvious that the agreements between the Ciakahrr and the Taal royals included hidden clauses unknown to the official records, and this theory would explain the connection between this small Taal group and the Reptilian residents of the Mirza system. These royal Taali were maybe promised to reconquer their system and be given more power, who knows, considering the natural ability for the Ciakahrr to lie and deceive for their own advantage. A large amount of time has passed since these events and at present times, the Taali descendants of this colony have interbred and hybridized with local populations, making them a race apart, far from the Federation's interests. Their involvement with the Ciakahrr Empire and the Orion Alliances is still unclear to this day."

Now, let's speak about the way the Taali people deal with emotions. As a comparison, I'm going to speak about the Ahil people. The Ahil embrace their emotions. They allow their emotions to come, and they let it go, let it flow. This way they get rid of them very quickly. The Taali do the contrary. They do not embrace and acknowledge their emotions to let them flow. They see the emotions as an obstacle to their efficiency and to their evolution.

I'd say that the benevolent Taali would be like the Vulcans of the galaxy, and the malevolent Taali would be like the Romulans, and you're going to see why. That's very interesting because Star Trek was inspired by real contact with extraterrestrials. The Taali will try to assimilate the emotions, tame them and block them, destroy them and neutralize them in a better way. On the other hand, Taali people are able to love very passionately. The Taali people are very close to us. They are our closest cousins genetically in the galaxy.

The benevolent Taali people, they're nice and great. They founded many colonies in the galaxy. What interests us is the Pleiades star cluster. Ships of colonies of three different races Taali, Ahil and Noori arrived in the Pleiades. The Pleiades are still a very young star cluster, and it had no planets of course when they arrived. They terraformed planets. This is the best decision because then they are not going to take over a planet where there's already an indigenous life, and bother everyone. Terraforming new planets or taking lifeless planets and making from them a livable world is the best ethical option. Then they do not destroy any other life because maybe even if you are very respectful of the local life you're going to bring your bacteria, microbes etc, and you're going to do some damage anyway. So they terraformed planets around different systems in the Pleiades, but today we are going to talk about two systems: Alcyone and Taygeta, and of course these are Earth-made names. These are names of Muses from Greek mythology. The local populations call them differently.

I'm going to show you the Taygeta (Ashaara) system. On Taygeta (Ashaara) they terraformed all these 10 planets. The Noor, the giant ones, had Alkhorat. Dakoorat, are the light beings, where Coron comes from, great people. Now, Erra and T'mar are two places where troubles begin. Erra is where the Ahil live and T'mar the Taali. I don't know how Ahil got Erra and Taali got T'mar, but they wanted Erra because Erra is a bigger planet and Taali people have a bigger ego. So there was a conflict but not only because of the bigger planet, there were more politics involved. The Ahil from Erra, called the Errahil, and the Taali from T'mar made an agreement together, but there was a faction of them who said, if we cannot rule upon the Ashaara system we are going to rule upon our own star system, because they wanted to do like in the Man system, be on the biggest planet and rule everyone. A detachment of Taali from T'mar left, after an argument with the Errahil. They went to settle in the Alcyone system. They terraformed the star system there, and the Taali living now in the Alcyone system are considered as renegade Taygetans. You can say Taygetans are all these races in this drawing that you see. They call themselves the Ashaaru, but the Taali that live now in the Alcyone system are renegade Taygetans or renegade Taal Taygetans.

After they created their system in the Alcyone system they were on their own because the Taygetans didn't want to have anything to do with them. The Taali from Alcyone wanted to join the Galactic Federation of Worlds, but the Galactic Federation of Worlds didn't accept. So the Taali from Alcyone would do anything to work against the Galactic Federation of Worlds because the Galactic Federation of Worlds is mainly ruled by Errahil who have high positions, as they are very good at military operations. High commander Ardaana is an Errahel. They have a lot of officers from Alpha Centauri, Beta Centauri and Proxima Centauri but the most personnel are all these humanoid races that have higher technology and higher culture. There are a lot of Taal as well from T'mar and other places who are also involved in the high positions of the Galactic Federation of Worlds and are composed of different humanoid races, but the Ahil are occupying the most of the high functions.

So the Alcyone Taali started to hate the Galactic Federation of Worlds and try everything they could to destroy their reputation, but they never could because they're a very small group. So they asked for protection from a more powerful structure than the Galactic Federation of Worlds: the Nebu from Orion. In response, the Nebu said you're too small, and we don't have interest in you.

After that, they asked for protection to a Reptilian Collective from Orion that works with the Ciakahrr Empire, who accepted in exchange that Alcyone Taali will give them a planet for a colony. So in the Alcyone system there's not only Taali Taygetans renegade but there is also a colony of Orion reptilians. And from this time the Taali Taygetans renegade got involved in the Ciakahrr Empire agendas. These renegade Taygetans name their planet Taalihara which means Taal Main World, and they named themselves Taal-Shiar and that drives us straight away to Star Trek. Now as I told you earlier on, when you can't face your enemy because you don't have enough forces and military resources you're going to ask for protection from bigger than the enemy, but also you're going to use rules like cunning tactics and deception. Anything that can make the population of Earth believe that the Galactic Federation of Worlds or the Ahil Taygetans, the blonde ones like Thor Han are evil. They're going to try to discredit them. There are a lot of manipulations, psyops from them. They are using social media on Earth.

Now, Kav or Akvaaru is a pilot. He has done some missions with Thor Han as a co-pilot and Akvaaru has a very interesting story. I'm going to connect telepathically with Thor Han and he'll connect with him, and I'll hear him and I will pass back on what he says. I am not connected with Akvaaru but with Thor Han by telepathy.

Akvaruu: Akvaruu is my name. I was born in a very conflicted world, Taalihara, where my mother and my father still are, and I cannot speak to them anymore. I cannot touch them anymore, nor my sister nor my brother. I wanted to bring them with me to Erra, but they rather stayed and said goodbye. I am a renegade from a renegade race. I left because I disagreed with the tactics used in the Jahya Council. The Jahya Council is composed of Taali and Ooganga, also Maytra, the new input. We asked about the connection with the Nebu. This is a new connection, as the Ciakahrr Empire is losing foot in your star system and my people need to get to our ends. I left because this is not my way of thinking. I'm a free spirit, I am sovereign, and no system will tell me what I need to think. I was born in a conflicted world. Not all of my people are bad, you need to know this. I left because I couldn't agree with our government. I escaped because we are forbidden to live by threat of death. I am Akvaaru, a pilot for the Galactic Federation of Worlds. I have followed your story, and evolution on Terra is very intriguing because we are the same. I can come and visit you anytime. My composition is the same as yours. I breathe the same air. I work with commander Thor Han on specific missions to help the Terran people to win this war. My world is very industrialized, not a lot of places for nature, and I like nature. I wanted to be a biologist, but war decided otherwise. I am more useful as a pilot, ship captain. In my spare time I took residence on the outpost ship of the military detachment of the Galactic Federation of World in your Sol system, near Terra's orbit and Moon. I participated in the operations of liberation of your satellite Moon, and now I participate in the operation on Tyr (Mars).

Q: Can you tell us about your culture and your spirituality?

Akvaruu: Spirituality, we have one. As all evolved races we connect to Source because we are Source. My people have their ways. I learned with some people, Esdra. She told me to go and meet Thor Han, and I liked this man. He taught me that there was more than refraining emotions. He showed me other ways. He showed me Ohorai way, which we, Taali refuse to practice because Ohorai way allows the flow of emotions to overwhelm you. This is why the Ahil and the Ohorai get on well together because they understand each other, but us, the Taali, prefer to control the energies of our emotions. Focus them in powerful manifestations. It is a different culture, a different way of thinking. We believe in Source like our brothers Ahil, but we just do it differently. When an emotion comes we transform it, we pacify it in something controllable. This is our way of doing things. The power of the mind upon the soul, upon the heart, upon the body to become powerful. We use the mind and the Ahil use the heart. We are different but closer than you, but you are more than we. You are interdimensional beings. You have way more possibilities and capabilities than us Taali, although we are your cousins, your nearer genetic match in this galaxy.

Q: Why did you decide to leave your planet Taalihara? You said that you disagreed with the methods but what happened?

Akvaruu: I was chased because I didn't have the right to live. There were new they couldn't control, and that was the decision that I made to leave, when I heard this.

Q: Are we concerned on Terra by these new measures?

Akvaruu: Not directly on Terra but on many worlds. The Ciakahrrs Empire has rules such as these ones, to destroy what they cannot submit to their power, even if it is resourceful. It is very stupid, but this is the way they think. I am not a Ciakahrr and I cannot understand their logic. The Ciakahrrs are losing your planet. They are going, but they want to destroy it before they leave which the Galactic Federation of Worlds will not allow of course. This will not happen. But I heard that the Jahya Taal-Shiar agreed to be part of these operations, because they have a good infiltration on Terra. Thor Han asked me to stop going further in explanations.

Q: Could you tell us about the plant life on your planet?

Akvaruu: I am not knowledgeable in the names of the plants in your terms, because also there are not a lot of correspondences, just some flowers that are very rare. I do not know how to speak about the description of these plants that have no reference to your universe and world. The nature of Taalihara is very rare because it has been a lot industrialized.

Q: What are the Ciakahrrs and (Alcyone-)Taali planing?

Akvaruu: They plan to subdue your race by fear. When I say Taali, I do not say my race entirely, I say Taal-Shiar from Taalihara, Jahya Council. As we look a lot like humans of Terra, the Taal-Shiar decided to infiltrate the Terran society to trick and deceive Terrans by luring them into misinformation and manipulating their mind. My people are a very ancient race, and we are very intelligent people. We know very well how the secrets of the mind work. We are masters in mind control, and we are working very closely with organizations on Terra which Thor Han doesn't allow me to name not to endanger Elena. These organizations are masters in manipulating the populations and the masses, abducting a lot of people, especially young Terrans to manipulate them and make of them living weapons releasing them into the society, and these people will have been modified in the mind by very specific techniques of torture will become weapons without knowing they are, to manipulate the populations by spreading misinformation. As I told you, the technique of the Ciakahrrs is to offer 90% of truth and 10% percent of lie, and it works like this: when any operation is performed as such it is because the Ciakahrrs are behind it. Get people to trust you and to listen to you by telling the truth, and once they believe you, once they adore you, you will say lies but in a very efficient way, slowly, slowly, slowly that they don't realize that suddenly they are taken to a divergent path and not on the path of liberation anymore. This is very typical Ciakahrr.

Be careful before associating with Terran organizations. They are very tricky. I have another thing to say. Please do not be indulgent to those who manipulate you, because I have learned that your people like to forgive. This doesn't work for everything. Those who manipulate you are predators. That you forgive them will just make you happy, but it will give them more power, because by forgiving your consent. Forgive your enemy once your enemy has lost the combat, not while you are fighting him. You are in a position of warriors. Forgiving is accepting the action of your enemy. This is good as a closure when your enemy has lost the war. It is a liberating closure. But not while you are fighting him. Be reckless, be without empathy. This is the advice of someone like me. I'm a fighter. I do not have compassion for those who torture the weak, who abduct, who sell, who trick. I do not have compassion for this. I have no time for that. I'm here to fight in a war not to give out to philosophy. I'm here to act. You have your work to do, I have mine. I'm here for you and I fight with the blood of a Taal, member of this great federation. My people on planet Taalihara are victims of manipulation from their government. One day I will rescue my family and take them away but not now. They are safe there. They will stay there. I don't mind not seeing them. I have work to do now in this star system alongside Thor Han. You will not see me a lot, I am not assigned to his fleet, but I think our encounter was timely and a good efficient synchronicity.

Q: Are there different races on your planet, like on Earth for instance?

Akvaaru: Yes there are. We've imported life from T'mar. There is a great diversity, not a lot of nature as I said but animals, insects and other life forms. There are big microbial life.

Q: Do you have super soldiers, and if so what are their abilities?

Akvaaru: The Taal-Shiar have created the race of hybrids with reptilian genetics from the Ooganga. They are a super race of fighters. They are used in the Reptilian Collective as enforcement and work for the Ciakahrr Empire. Their abilities are psychic and muscular. They have robotic parts in their bodies and their strength is unbelievable. They are related to a hive society system or like the Nebu Grays. Their minds are bound together as one, and although they are humans their minds are all related to a Central Queen Hive and they receive orders all at the same time, like insects, but they have human and reptilian genetics. Their strength is unbelievable. They could crush the metal of a ship with one hand. They can bind your mind to their will. These fighters are unbelievable. They fortunately haven't been transferred into your Sol system because the frequency of the parts composing their bodies which are not biological are detected very easily from the Federation's measurement devices.

Q: Do we know of what material these parts are made from?

Akvaaru: They are made of materials that are alive but synthetic. These materials are related to a Central Mother Hive as I told you, connecting the minds of all these individuals and enhancing their physical capabilities. The materials are very smooth, they are not metal, although I say robotic. Not alike on your planet. It's a solid smooth material that could be assimilated to smooth bones. Like Cartilage.

Q: Are there many Taal-Shiar in our society?

Akvaaru: We look like you. Most of the time we have brown and black hair with clear eyes. We are tall and thin, very slim and elongated faces, not always. We look like you. You cannot tell us apart from your people. You will never know you are talking to a Taal-Shiar, but yes there are many.

Q: Is the starship technology and navigation similar between Taal-Shiar and Ahil ships for you to be able to co-pilot Thor Han's ship?

Akvaaru: Well I do not pilot Taal-Shiar ships because I left the Jahya system and the Taal-Shiar. I betrayed them to join the Federation and I pilot ships from the Federation. I've learned here in this Sol system how to pilot a Federation ship which is based on the Ahil model. I wouldn't know how to pilot a Taal-Shiar ship.

Q: Are there Terran based Taal starseeds?

Akvaruu: We do not need to incarnate into avatars because we can breathe, eat and walk in your atmosphere and density. We do not need the starseed envoys program. We can be here directly to help. The Taal are the most contingents, working with the Earth Alliance: Meton, Selosi and Taali.

Q: How old are you, how long do you plan to serve in the Federation, and where do you want to retire?

Akvaaru: I am 362 years old in your years, but I look as young as you. I have been serving the Federation for six years, since I escaped, and I plan to serve here until this war is over, because my people, the Taal-Shiar government of which I am ashamed of, are doing a lot of damage here, manipulating populations, making alliances with wrong groups and as long as my people will cause harm to this system, I will stay here and fight. If I need to kill people of my own kind I will, because justice to me is above all life and killing is only incorporating. We are all immortals and we come back; we just deactivate an avatar. So if I need to deactivate avatars to deactivate beings from my own kind I will do it. I know I will not kill them totally because their being will go to their home world and incarnate into a new avatar. There is no death, there is just the deactivation and incorporation.

Q: When this war is over, what will you do, where do you want to go?

Akvaruu: To Taalihara my world, pick up my family and go to Erra.

Q: Why Erra and not T'mar?

Akvaruu: Because Erra is where I made friends here on this station, and a girl I like is Errahel. Thor Han knows her.

Q: From which of the four humanoid mainstream do we mostly descend, is that Laani?

Akvaruu: Laani has influenced a lot on your genetics. They, Ahil, the Taal and 21 races. You have also non-human races involved in your genetics, but your people have been seeded mainly with Taali, Ahil and Laani. Three races. Put the Taali and the Ahil as equal percentage. You have a very complex history, and you do not know everything about it.
