Q: The California fires. I saw some pictures of lightning that looked weird, in the shape of a circle. It was not natural.

Thor Han: It was Terran human-made weapons from orbit. We try to neutralize them but it is not always easy, it is protected by non-Terran technology, and we cannot engage in a war, this is a topic we already spoke about.

Q: With the two hurricanes that are hitting Louisiana right now, is that the same case?

Thor Han: This is all part of the same plan, they control your climate as well, but this is not extraterrestrial, it is Terran made, Terran control, they have this technology.

Q: And I heard that the hurricanes were supposed to hit Florida, and they were diverted and ended up in Louisiana.

Thor Han: Yes, what you say is right, it had to hit the Florida area but it was diverted. The winds have to die out somewhere, and it is not easy to manipulate climate. You cannot manipulate one area without changing the whole planet, so it is a delicate work. This is one example of what is happening and what is going to unfold. The center of the chaos and the keys are on the continent America, where the outcome will be decided. I have good hope. I hope all our friends who are listening have good hope too, they need to. Well most of the Terrans, they don't know the power they have, the mental power of their being, if they knew that they can really manifest energetically the future they want, they need to understand this.

Q: We were talking about the California fires and the hurricanes, there's a lot of stuff going on also in Minneapolis and the Pacific north in the Midwest and Pacific Northwest like Portland, also in Seattle, there's an area now that it's like civil war kind of going on over there, so is all of these happening because it's from the Cabal?

Thor Han: These are dissensions and fights and conflict organized by those who work in the shadow. They want to create chaos because you have important elections of your leader coming soon, and they want to divide your country because your people will vote and decide for the future of this whole planet and your whole species. You have such responsibility, Terrans from this part of the world, in the decisions you will make to elect the right institution, which will lead you either to the liberation of your species and the evolution towards your spiritual aims and the light of a new density, or either support an institution working with the shadow that will make everybody as robots.

Q: What do you know about Jesus?

Thor Han: He was an Envoy from another soul matrix. He carried a message for the human species, to love each other and to bind each other in unity and in love. In these times it was a switching point for your species as well, where you could have taken a bad path.

He was supported by his family and by the Federation, he was an ambassador and an Envoy. His mission bore fruits but something unfortunate happened, the powers in place hijacked his teachings and his personality to create a power institution in his name, a power institution that had nothing to do with his teachings, with his message. He was a hybrid. Mary was impregnated through abduction, so he was sent, his soul in a hybrid body to bring this message of unity and love but only a few listened. The institution of power took over him, and it is very unfortunate. Your ancient texts are talking about it, but you do not see what it is really about, your institution create this new religion, that obliterated the truth by putting clouds of confusions on these texts and modified them. The real records from the people who lived a little bit after this Envoy can be found, you can read them.

Q: Do current parallel lives exist, Dolores Cannon said that we have different lives going on at the same time, so whenever we make a big decision there's a fork in the road and both lives continue and then once one of the lives becomes stronger than the other than this other life kind of falls away, so do we have different realities going on at one time?

Thor Han: This is a metaphor of the unconscious, of the soul, of the being. There are parallel universes, parallel dimensions, some may find they have correspondences in these parallel universes but not all, I am not sure this woman you mentioned is talking about parallel dimensions, alternate universes, alternate realities. I know of two things, two concepts which are both reality, you have different paths that you can take in your life but only one life, you have directions you can change, but it is always you walking the path, there isn't a second you. This is difficult for you to comprehend. Dimensions are superimposed to each other. You can communicate with other dimensions through portals. Some of you are walking portals and can project into other dimensions, these people are targeted for instance.

Q: Is there any way to know that you are one of these people?

Thor Han: You know it when it happens to you. Sometimes you have a glitch where you find yourself in another surrounding, somewhere different, it's just a fraction of seconds.

Q: Does that work for everybody in all dimensions?

Thor Han: There is no number, we do not number the dimensions, they are infinite, there are so many. We have rules not to interfere, not to interconnect dimensions because every time we do so, if it is not made by a glitch or natural process, we do not force it because it disturbs the web of the space continuum, and it is not good to interconnect dimensions for no reason. We like the order of the universe to stay as it is, it is dangerous to play around with connecting and interchanging paths and pathways, it is not recommended. We have already enough to do with our own life and our evolution, connecting with other dimensions doesn't help if it is just adventure and exploration. If everyone was doing this, the universe would be a big mess.

Q: When we dream we travel to another dimension, what happens?

Thor Han: It may happen, there are different levels of dreams. You can either leave your avatar and travel, either switch into a different dimension, a parallel universe, or it is only your subconscious who needs to do some cleansing and healing, there are many different things that can happen when you dream.

Q: About Astral Travel.

Thor Han: We can connect with any point in this universe by our own simple thought. You can all do it. All of you are of a higher density than 3D as your light being. I try to be very explicit, the body who inhabits your avatars is of a higher density. When you merge with who you are, you can connect and travel by the thought. It is the travel without moving, by resonance, by interconnection. Set a destination and your consciousness will take you there, in the blink of your eye, in a heartbeat, you will be there by consciousness. Not physically but with your body of light, your true being will connect there by the thought. This is not Astral Travel, you do not leave your body, you just connect to another place in the universe by thought, you are not there but you are connected to there. You need an anchor point and know where you want to go, to have a connection there or to someone there. Exploring is difficult but a thing that is possible to be done.

Q: Is that what is called Bilocation?

Thor Han: Bilocation is when you leave your body. Bilocation: your body's third dimensional avatar stays where and your light being transports itself out of the avatar to another point but the both are still linked. Bilocation is a correct word, but it is not doubling yourself.

Q: About food supply:

Thor Han: On the ship we have no food stores. We have food rations and we only drink energy liquid because otherwise we would be sick with the travel, because we shift densities when we travel, and we must have an empty stomach, so we use energy drinks. On Erra the food is available everywhere, we have places we can get it and the currency is very different from on Terra. It is an energy currency, and it is something etheric that you will get there one day. It's an exchange, everything is an exchange, you do not need to take, you give something in exchange, there's an energy currency in exchange, so yes, food is available in some places. You call it shop, it is the equivalent. We have a lot of shops on the stations as well to provide everyone with what they need and entertainment and as well special food, clothes, objects and cultural items. Shops are part of our culture as well, our way of functioning.

Q: This currency device you have on your sleeve, how does it work?

Thor Han: I have a holographic connectivity device in my left forearm that also allows me to perform transactions, and also contains some data. I use it as well when I pilot a ship to connect to the navigation instruments. About currency, I receive credits that are automatically transferred to this device and these credits are used for different things, when I want to acquire goods for instance. The food is free but the currency you can use it to buy things that you don't need. My superiors puts the credits on this device, it is a centralized system, and it is based on my work.

Q: Do you have people with special needs, born with disabilities?

Thor Han: Oh no, we don't, we have genetically evolved. That this is very rare when it happens. Sometimes you can have genetic anomalies, but it's repaired before the birth.

Q: What about the chores that most people wouldn't want to do?

Thor Han: We have machines and have synthetic life forms, robots and mechanical entities.

Q: So then basically you have people only doing things they love to do?

Thor Han: Yes, that is pretty much what is happening, but some do not have an easy task because some have to do difficult work like the soldiers on the front, this is not easy work.

Q: Can you view us on internet, social media, movies, music, the news from up there?

Thor Han: Oh yes, yes you are being watched.

Q: There's something called Gesara Nesar, a global economic security and reformation act. Do you know anything about it, about what the economic system will move into when that economic meltdown happens?

Thor Han: The banking system as you know it will not be in your future, but this will be a progressive change. One day, if all goes according to the plan, the currency will be global on your planet, there will be free energy, free food, the basic needs will be free for everyone but this will not happen yet. You need to change first, you need to grow up. This that you mentioned is correct in your future, it will be progressive, you may know it in your lifetime.

Q: So do you know if cryptocurrency, the digital currency, will play a role in the future?

Thor Han: Yes, you will have something similar to what we use. This is something that is written in your future, I would say, data currency, I do not know how to translate it. You want to know my opinion about what I know and what I have learned about your future currency? Well it is very simple, it will be the same thing as we use because you will have to adjust to our ways when you join us. So to adapt to our ways you need to find your ways first, which will be compatible with our ways. Your currency system is not compatible with our ways as it is now, this is why we help you to change it. Your ways compatible with ours will be a currency which will be global to your planet, and will have no physical attachment, no physical representation. This currency will be data, energy, and it will be technology that you will not see.

Q: Does The Galactic Federation have direct contact with the Source and the angelics?

Thor Han: Yes we all have connection to Source because we are all a part of it, we're all fractals of this Source, so the connection is natural. The angels, you know this is an old belief related to your old religions, have many different explanations, your ancient people named "angels" anything that they couldn't explain and who wasn't human from Terra. Us for instance, the Telosians for instance or higher beings taking care of your planet. You know one of them, Kryon, he is not an angel, he is a higher consciousness part of the consciousness of the planet. Beings like this are considered as angels for your culture but this is the old culture, it is time now that you forget the old names, and that you call everything as it is really named. Angel is the name that regroups a lot of concepts that you couldn't explain in the past. Now you can, slowly.

Q: So do you know who Metatron is?

Thor Han: Oh, it is super consciousness, it is not a person, it is not an individual, it is a consciousness which is the 12th density next to Source. This super consciousness is representing a geometry, this geometry is the manifestation, the picture of Source. You all have knowledge of this geometry. The Metatron symbol is the key that crystallizes the energy of Source, it is the signature of the Source. Metatron is the name of the symbol and the symbol encompasses and materialize the name "Source". The name Source, we say Source, you say different other words, but there is not an audible name to Source. The symbol of the Metatron is the name for Source, it is not an audible name, it is a geometric signature which is as well sound that you cannot hear, but you can feel. It is a key of frequencies, this is how you name Source and Metatron, is the name of the symbol, and it is always a consciousness, it is quite difficult to understand, but I know you are capable of understanding it.

Q: Are there any good reptilian races on Terra who can live in harmony with us?

Thor Han: Yes, there are the local indigenous ones, who live in the realms of Agartha. These ones are not very happy at the moment. They were living in secret and hiding, they are part of the liberation plans with the Telosians. These races will be free again. All the reptilians are not bad persons, only those from Thuban are absolutely evil, the other ones are not. There are so many different races in your galaxy alone, a lot of reptilian races, some have wonderful cultures.

Q: Would we ever incarnate and have a life as a reptilian to experience that side of life? Do most reptilians receive source energy directly from Source?

Thor Han: Yes, you can. Every creature in the multiverse is a fractal of Source. For the Ciakahrrs and Nagas for instance, that you know, they are blocked because they have blocked themselves. So the fractal of Source is dormant in them, and they are not connected when they are deciding to act in the lower densities, but they are also fractal of Source.

Q: So would you say they have strayed from their original soul blueprint?

Thor Han: Yes you can say it like this, they can go back, and many go back. You know why some reptilian Nagas and a few Ciakahrrs have asked us to help them? And you know what makes the change, what makes them reconnect to the flow of Source within their heart? Love. when they discover love again they change, it opens their heart and their connection to Source again. The love makes them cry. I have seen once and officer Ciakahrr crying, this is really made my whole being trembled, he was very arrogant at the start. We were evacuating him and his comrades to a ship, to take him out of this star system. I saw him, he passed in front of me, his energy was vibrant with chaos because he was feeling lost, he had just discovered love, and he was moving towards a liberation, I could see as he passed in front of me tears in his eyes. This is hope, love is the greatest power, love induces peace, balance, it is everything, it is the most beautiful thing I know, and the most powerful.

Q: I didn't want to forget about asking you for five more Taami words.

Thor Han:

1. Shun - for the world or planet.
2. Ghou - Car.

3. Doru - the equivalent for this - Hologram.
4. Ada - Father.
5. Mana - Mother.
6. Asháamina - Welcome.

Message

Thor Han: I can pass my message, I want to say something to all the Terrans who are listening, we see a lot of war from where we are, above your heads in our orbital stations and in our patrolling ships, we see conflict, we see chaos, you need to know that the day when you will join our forces will be the day you will be at equivalent level of peace as we are. You need to stop fighting each other, if you want so much to live together with us, you need now to stop criticizing those who are different. Fighting, violence, anger, anger must be healed. If you are angry, against a brother or sister of your same species, it is because the anger is within you. You need to heal something within you first. You need to unite, you need to empower each other, comfort and support each other in each other's evolution, just help each other. I will finish by this word: Love - Maa, Maa is the word we use for love, so build this future with Maa, this is my message.
